18. Appropriate integration of Indian Knowledge system (teaching in Indian Language, culture, using online course)

Indian Knowledge System

The Bhartiya way is sustainable and strives for the welfare of all. It is important that we regain the comprehensive knowledge system of our heritage and demonstrate the 'Indian way' of doing things to the world. This requires training generations of scholars who will demonstrate and exemplify to the world a way of life so unique and peculiar to our great civilization. It promotes indigenous knowledge systems. IKS is a systematic method of transferring knowledge from one generation to the next. It includes knowledge from ancient India, such as Vedic literature, the Upanishads, and the Vedas. IKS also includes tribal knowledge, traditional learning methods, and knowledge of mathematics, philosophy, architecture, medicine, and more. The NEP, 2020 recognizes this rich heritage of ancient and eternal Indian knowledge and thought as a guiding principle. The Indian Knowledge Systems comprise of Jnan, Vignan, and Jeevan Darshan that have evolved out of experience, observation, experimentation, and rigorous analysis. This tradition of validating and putting into practice has impacted our education, arts, administration, law, justice, health, manufacturing, and commerce. This has influenced classical and other languages of Bharat, that were transmitted through textual, oral, and artistic traditions. "Knowledge of India" in this sense includes knowledge from ancient India and, its successes and challenges, and a sense of India's future aspirations specific to education, health, environment and indeed all aspects of life. In order to realize these goals of NEP 2020, a number of activities have been undertaken by the Ministry of Education, Regulatory Bodies (UGC & AICTE) and HEIs to reach out to public through various mechanisms: Establish institutional support mechanisms through the establishment of the IKS centers which will be catalysts for initiating research, education, and outreach activities in various parts of the country. Provide initial seed funding for the establishment of IKS Centers in various HEIs. Dedicated research grants may be proposed through NRF in the future to boost IKS. Provide avenues for student internships/apprenticeships and provide counselling to IKS learners. IKS-related research proposals. Universities in all States/UTs may introduce learner credits or IKS electives in all courses for imbuing learners across all disciplines with traditional knowledge and pride. UGC has already made it mandatory to include 5% of the total credits in the curriculum related to the IKS courses. The IKS Division has brought together leading thinkers and practitioners of various knowledge domains to develop Vision 2047 documenting a roadmap for establishing thriving Bh?rat?ya Gnana Parampar?..

19.Focus on Outcome based education (OBE):Focus on Outcome based education (OBE):

The institution has taken efforts to transform the curriculum based on appropriate Outcome Based Education. Programme Learning Outcomes (PLO) and Course Learning Outcomes (CLO) for all courses are prepared in tune with the spirit of NEP 2020. Mapping of PLOs with CLOs are done. The teaching learning and assessment of students are in alignment with the learning outcomes. IQAC organised faculty development programmes on Curriculum aspects based on Outcome Based Education. All the faculties are trained in OBE. During student induction programme, students are given an orientation on PLOs and CLOs which are published in the website.

2.3 - Teaching- Learning Process

2.3.1 - Multiple mode approach to teaching-learning is adopted by teachers which includes experiential learning, participative learning, problem solving methodologies, brain storming, focused group discussion, online mode, etc. for enhancing student learning Describe the varied modes of learning adopted and their basic rationale for adopting such learning mode/s for different courses of each programme in not more than 100-200 words.

Teachers employ a diverse array of teaching methods embracing experiential learning, participative approaches, problem-solving techniques, brainstorming sessions, focused group discussions, online platforms and more to enrich the learning experience. Experiential learning involves actively engaging in experiences and reflecting on them to acquire knowledge, skills, and values. Participative learning encourages students to actively contribute to the learning process, creating a collaborative environment where everyone's ideas, perspectives, and knowledge are valued. Problem-solving methodologies cultivate critical thinking, creativity and resilience by guiding learners through structured approaches to tackle challenges and find effective solutions. Brain storming fosters creativity, collaboration and open-mindedness by providing a space where individuals can freely share ideas without judgement or immediate critique. This technique encourages participants to think outside the box, explore a wide range of possibilities and consider unconventional approaches. Focused group discussions enable in-depth exploration of specific topics by bringing together individuals with diverse viewpoints and expertise to share insights, debate ideas and deepen understanding. The online mode facilitates flexible and accessible learning by allowing individuals to engage with content from anywhere at any time, making education more adaptable to diverse schedules and needs. These methods cater to the unique requirements of different courses, aiming to engage students effectively in learning various subject areas.

2.3.7 - Teaching learning process nurtures creativity, innovativeness, intellectual and thinking skills, empathy, life skills etc. among students

The teaching learning process is crucial in nurturing creativity, innovativeness, intellectual and thinking skills, empathy and life skills among B.Ed and M.Ed students. Through critical thinking exercises, case studies and real life classrooms scenarios, students develop problem-solving skills and intellectual skills to adapt theoretical knowledge to practical situations. Collaborative tasks and interactive discussions build essential life skills such as communication, collaboration and time management which are indispensable for classroom management. Reflective practices, mentoring and feedback foster personal growth and adaptability instilling among students a mind set of life long learners. Altogether teacher learning process in B.Ed and M.Ed programmes is designed to develop future teachers who are not only knowledgeable but also compassionate, adaptable and equipped to inspire their own students' holistic development.

2.6 - Evaluation Process

2.6.1 - Continuous Internal Evaluation (CIE) of student learning is in place in the institution Describe details of the Continuous Internal Evaluation in the institution highlighting its major components in not more than 100-200 words

The institution follows a well-structured Continuous Internal Evaluation (CIE) system to assess student learning systematically in each semester as per the curriculum. CIE encompasses both theory and practical evaluations. Mandatory components include mid-semester exams and model exams, with scores contributing significantly to the internal assessment. For student teachers, continuous evaluation extends beyond exams to their performance in activities such as discussion classes, demonstration and criticism sessions, the School Induction Program, and two phases of internship. A team comprising optional and core paper teachers, the Principal, and school mentor teachers evaluates students' teaching skills. Additionally, all practical work assigned in the syllabus is meticulously assessed by the respective subject teachers, ensuring quality and adherence to standards. Through consistent guidance and support, students are encouraged to maintain high standards in their work. This comprehensive approach ensures continuous monitoring and holistic evaluation, fostering the professional and academic growth of the students.

2.6.3 - Mechanism for grievance redressal related to examination is operationally effective

The mechanism for grievance redressal related to examination is designed, operationally effective. It ensures that students can express concerns about marks through a structured process. Here's how the mechanism works:

- Initial Display of Marks: After finalizing the internal marks, the teacher in charge of the examination consolidates the marks list and displays it on the notice board.
- Student Complaint: If a student feels the marks given are not just, they can make a complaint to the principal.
- Complaint Investigation :The principal forwards the complaint to the concerned teacher responsible for the paper.The teacher discusses the marks with the student, showing the criteria used for evaluation and the marks allotted to each criterion.If any changes are made after this discussion, the teacher resubmits the marks to the principal.
- Re-display: The teacher in charge of the examination consolidates the marks again and publishes the revised list on the notice board.
- Further Complaint: If the complaint persists after the teacher-student discussion, the principal forwards the complaint to the grievance redress committee for further action.
- Suggestion Box: Students have the freedom to use a suggestion box to express dissatisfaction with the internal examination mechanism.
- Oversight by Authorities: The principal and faculty in charge periodically monitor the overall process through meetings with the internal examination committee to ensure its effectiveness.

2.6.4 - The institution adheres to academic calendar for the conduct of Internal Evaluation Describe the mechanism of adhering to academic calendar for the conduct of Internal Evaluation in the institution in not more than 100-200 words.

The institution follows the academic calendar for conducting Internal Evaluations by integrating a detailed schedule of all relevant activities. The academic calendar outlines the timing and sequence of internal evaluations, including both theoretical and practical exams. It specifies the tentative dates for the internal exams, discussion of question papers, distribution of marks, submission of practical works, internal mark display, and the signing and uploading of internal marks on the university website. Any adjustments to the tentative schedule are discussed and rescheduled during staff meetings to ensure flexibility and coordination. Adherence to the academic calendar helps to alleviate stress for both teachers and students, promoting a smooth and organized internal evaluation process. Additionally, the calendar includes schedules for school inductions, internships, and teacher educator visits, ensuring that these activities are completed on time and maintaining the integrity of the educational process. This systematic approach enables efficient and timely internal evaluations, supporting a seamless flow of academic activities within the institution.

2.7 - Student Performance and Learning Outcomes

2.7.1 - The teaching learning process of the institution is aligned with the stated PLOs and CLOs. Describe the way in which institution ensures alignment of stated PLOs and CLOs with the teaching learning process in not more than 100 - 200 words.

The institution ensures the alignment of stated Program Learning Outcomes (PLOs) and Course Learning Outcomes (CLOs) with the teaching-learning process through a systematic approach. Faculty members design curriculum and lesson plans that explicitly connect instructional strategies, learning activities and assessments with the desired outcomes. This alignment is further supported through the use of curriculum mapping tools, which ensure that each course contributes to the broader PLOs. Assessment methods are aligned with CLOs, allowing for the measurement of student progress in achieving specific learning objectives. Regular feedback mechanisms, such as internal examinations, teacher evaluations and peer reviews help to monitor the effectiveness of this alignment and inform continuous improvement. Through these strategies, the institution ensures that the teaching-learning process consistently supports the achievement of both PLOs and CLOs, fostering meaningful learning experiences for student teachers.

2.7.3 - The progressive performance of students and attainment of professional and personal attributes in line with the PLOs and CLOs is monitored and used for further improvements

The progressive performance of student teachers, along with their attainment of Professional and personal attributes in line with the Programme Learning Outcomes (PLOs) and Course Learning Outcomes (CLOs), is systematically monitored through a combination of formative and summative assessments. These assessments include classroom observations, reflective journals, peer reviews and mentor evaluations. Subject competency is assessed through assignments, seminar presentation and internal examinations. Teacher quality acquisition is ensured by continuous practical sessions either in college or in school. Different phases of internship help to monitor the teaching competency of student teachers continuously and understand the progress needed by the students. The monitoring helps the college stay in line with expected outcomes and help our students achieve them. Feedback from these assessments is used to identify and strength areas for improvement, guiding the students' development. Additionally, the results are analysed to refine teaching strategies ensuring that future cohorts are better supported in their professional growth and preparedness for their teaching careers.

2.7.5 - Performance of students on various assessment tasks reflects how far their initially identified learning needs are catered to. Describe with examples the extent to which the assessment task and the performance of students reflect their initially identified learning needs in not more than 100 -200 words.

Assessment tasks and student performance reflect how well their initially identified learning needs are addressed. Continuous evaluation identifies gaps in communication, teaching, and cognitive skills, allowing targeted interventions like value-added courses to improve them. Students lacking effective communication skills benefit from seminars, competitions, and webinars, which enhance their confidence and cognitive abilities. The internship program, structured in phases, allows students to apply theoretical knowledge, developing their teaching skills through practical experience. Activities involving the local community further refine social and organizing skills, ensuring a holistic approach to development. Capacity-building programs play a vital role in shaping B.Ed. students into effective and competent educators. These programs are designed to enhance their teaching abilities, communication skills, leadership qualities, and overall professional growth. Programs focusing on technology integration in education familiarize them with digital tools and e-learning platforms, which are essential in modern teaching. Additionally, community engagement initiatives, such as organizing local events or social outreach programs, develop their social and organizational skills. By the end of the program, students exhibit significant growth across various dimensions—cognitive, emotional, and social—demonstrating that their learning needs were effectively catered to. This comprehensive training helps them to become capable educators, ready to shape future generations with competence and enthusiasm.

7.1 - Institutional Values and Social Responsibilities

7.1.1 - Institution has a stated energy policy streamlining ways of energy conservation, use of alternate sources of energy for meeting its power requirements Describe the institution's energy policy streamlining ways of energy conservation, use of alternate sources of energy for meeting its power requirements in not more than 100 - 200 words.

Our institution is committed to sustainability, with an eco-friendly campus brimming with lush greenery and trees. The abundant vegetation creates a serene and peaceful environment, ensuring a naturally cool atmosphere throughout the campus. Furthermore, our classrooms are designed with optimal ventilation, ensuring excellent air circulation and abundant natural light. These architectural features significantly reduce our reliance on electrical energy, making the campus energy-efficient and environmentally conscious.

Energy Conservation Strategies involve -

- Sustainable energy designs and renovations.
- Older electrical equipment are replaced with energy efficient ones.
- Conduct Workshops.
- Displaying sign boards
- Display of Green Protocol.
- Encouraging the prospective teachers to take up research on sustainable practices.
- Encouraging the teachers to take up research in sustainable practices for energy conservation.

- Conducted an inter school quiz competition 'Y-QUEST' for energy conservation
- Encouraging the prospective teachers to participate in various competitions on energy conservation.

Our institution has developed a comprehensive energy policy, which is supported by a committee comprising teachers, students, parents, and non-teaching staff. This collaborative approach enables the smooth execution of an energy management program that drives sustainability across the campus, promoting energy-saving initiatives and fostering a culture of environmental responsibility among all members of the college community.

7.3.1 - Performance of the institution in one area of distinctiveness related to its vision, priority and thrust Describe the institutional performance in one area of distinctiveness related to its vision, priority and thrust in not more than 100 -200 words

Response:

Fathima Memorial Training College, a minority institution managed by the Fathima Memorial Educational Trust, exemplifies its commitment to economic support as a key priority. Recognizing financial challenges as barriers to education, the college undertakes various humane initiatives to ensure inclusive access and equitable opportunities for academic growth. During the academic year 2023-2024, the trust provided financial assistance and fee concessions to more than 10 percent of its students, demonstrating its dedication to supporting those in need.

Special attention is extended to students from marginalized communities, ensuring their aspirations are not hindered by financial constraints. By addressing the economic challenges faced by students, the institution fosters an environment where they can concentrate on their studies and holistic development without undue stress.

In addition to direct financial aid, the trust promotes programs and activities that uplift and empower students, ensuring they have the resources and opportunities to succeed. This inclusive approach underscores the institution's dedication to equity and social responsibility, making it a beacon of hope for many. Through its unwavering commitment to supporting students economically, Fathima Memorial Training College continues to transform lives, reinforcing its role as a distinctive and impactful institution in education.
